Wendy Kay

Senior Director for Intelligence Office of the Deputy Under Secretary of the Navy

Wendy Kay is the Senior Director for Intelligence, in the Office of the Deputy Under Secretary of the Navy for Plans, Policy, Oversight and Integration (DUSN PPOI). She serves as the senior advisor to the DUSN PPOI on a wide range of intelligence and intelligence-related matters. She is also the Executive Secretary for the Senior Review Board, chaired by the Under Secretary of the Navy, which is responsible for overseeing all intelligence, intelligence-related, sensitive activities, and special access programs.

From June 1998 until September 2007, Ms. Kay served in a variety of positions at the Office of Naval Intelligence in Suitland, Maryland. Her most recent position was as the Assistant Director of Global Maritime Intelligence Integration (GMII) at ONI. She represented the Commander, ONI in national Intelligence Community (IC) Maritime Domain Awareness (MDA) policy and planning bodies and with IC components represented by the GMII Community of Interest. She also advised top level Navy officials on matters pertaining to Global MDA and providing recommendations to improve cross-community maritime intelligence processing, exploitation, analysis, and dissemination to meet national, Department of Defense (DoD), and Navy maritime intelligence requirements.

From Dec 1989 until June 1998, Wendy Kay served in a variety of positions at the Joint Interagency Task Force East (now Joint Interagency Task Force South). In her last position prior to joining ONI, she served as the senior liaison officer to the El Paso Intelligence Center (EPIC), in El Paso, Texas. As such, she was the principal civilian coordinator between JIATFE, EPIC, DoD, and other federal law enforcement agencies on detection, monitoring, and interdiction of drug trafficking events in the Caribbean and Eastern Pacific. Ms. Kay also served as an advisor to the JIATFE Director of Intelligence on DoD and law enforcement intelligence integration matters. Prior to taking the liaison position at EPIC, she was JIATFE's Senior Watch Officer responsible for the training, supervision, and oversight of five 24x7 op-intel watch teams monitoring drug trafficking events.

Wendy Kay received her bachelor's of arts in history in 1988 from Briar Cliff College in Sioux City, Iowa. She has been awarded the Department of Navy Medal for Superior Civilian Service.
